COMMUNITY

Roundhouse Works will be a community of like-minded freelancers and business owners aged 18-30, all working in the creative industries. You'll be working with a diverse mix of young creatives; everything from design to fashion, visual effects to videography, marketing to journalism, music to architecture.

We know that on the whole, the people working in the creative industries don't represent the diversity of people in our society. We want Roundhouse Works to change that. We will be actively ensuring that our membership base is diverse, inclusive and a safe and empowering environment.

Over the last year we've been running workspace pilot programmes in the run up to the opening of Roundhouse Works.
Here's what they had to say...

"Because of this space and accessibility I've been able to finish my play which was my objective. I can now go onto the next step of developing as a writer and truly have this space to thank, so thank you."

"It made me organised with my time and made me feel more stable as a freelancer."

TESTIMONIALS

"It created a structure for me. I'm all over the show, it was quite nice to know that I had a base to work from properly and effectively. It cleared the cloudiness that comes from working from home."

"The social events helped remove us from isolation, we became a bit of a tribe and a community"
